MISS EMMER'S CLEVER WAYS.

THEY APPRAIS TO HAVE GOT THAT BRIGHT GIRL INTO TROUBLE. so Bren Call Her a Steamer Rus

nor-She Admitted in a Latter that Her Lover Did Not Know Her Character. Annie Louisa Emmer, a young and vivacious brunette, who is able to converse in four lan-guages and who can play the zither, was ar-raigned in the Gates Avenue Police Court. Brooklyn, yesterday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. The complainant was John F. Bellman of 159 Evergreen avenue, Williamsburgh.

The police characterize her as a daring adventuress, who travels under a number of allases, being variously known as "Carmen Emmett." "Louise Midgecot," "Anna Em-mer." and "Louisa Ammerman." They call travels to and from Europe on the big ocean greyhounds for the purpose of victimizing her a "steamer runner"-that is, a woman who good-natured strangers by means of her affable ways. Among steamship men, it is said. she is known as "Handsome Lou." It is alleged that she has travelled all over Europe, and succeeded in obtaining thousands of dollars from the unwary. Her method of operation was to solicit subscriptions for imaginary charities. Her parents, who are well to do, re-With them live her four brothers, while her nly relative in America is her sister Ida. who lives at 10 Troutman street, Williamsburgh.

In March last she brought suit for $50,000 against Ferman Ferrar, a wealthy mining roker of Wall street, alleging that he had broken his promise to marry her. Ferrar, who broken his promise to marry her. Ferrar, who is a widower, is the Vice-President of the Victoria Tunnel Company, and is also interested in the Atlanta Steel and Iron Company. About a year ago he advertised in a New York paper for a woman who would make a suitable wife for him. Among the answers he received was one from "Handsome Lou," who sligned herself "Carmen." Ferrar corresponded with her and finally met her. She told him her name was Carmen Emmett, and that she was the daughter of a wealthy German, bhe also said that her family moved in the boat society. Ferrar invited her to his house, 217 East Sixty-ninth stroet, this city, Afterward they met frequently in the little park at the Battery, and there, so the woman alleged in the affidavit in her suit against the broker, he promised to marry her. Ferrar learned something of her past history, and then refused to have anything more to do with her. It was then that she sued him in the Eupreme Court, Brooklyn. The case was finally settled by agreement of the lawyers.

The next that was heard of the woman was as a member of the Aurora Zither Club of Brooklyn, a musical society of which Prof. Arno d is the director. Among the club members she was known as Miss Anna L. Emmer, and she became popular on account of her entertaining ways and cultivated voice. Her zither playing brought her many friends, and she soon found her way into the best dramatic societies in Brooklyn. She eventually fell behind in the payment of ner dues and hernane was dropped from the roll. At this time she had a furnished room at 40 Bartlett street, Williamshurgh. She took her meals at the house of Mattin Buber, a blacksmith, at 340 Bushwick averue. Subsequently she went to a boarding house in Gwinnett street, Williamshurgh. She took her meals at the house of Mattin Buber, a blacksmith, at 340 Bushwick averue. Subsequently she went a widower, is the Vice-President of the Victoria Tunnel Company, and is also inter-

day. He speake to her, and she told him the good work she was doing in interest of charity. The policenian questioned her closely, and came to the conclusion that she was not exactly as charitably inclined as she represented herself to be. In order to find out more of her history he requested her to meet him on the following night at Willoughby and buyyeant avenues. She agreed to meet him, but the next day she sent him a letter, which read thus: Gark, prior to the receipt of the woman's letter, had learned that she was swinding rouple, and he reported the matter to Acting Captain Sutton. Detective bergeant Miller Went to 230 Troutman street and discovered first the woman had disappeared. He continued his investigations further, and learned, he reported, that she had got money from many members of the Aurora Zither Club besides Frank Rost, a hrewer in Evergreen avenue. John F. Bellman of 150 Evergreen avenue, John F. Bellman of 150 Evergreen avenue, Joseph Bocker of Broadway and Park avenue, Joseph Bocker of Broadway and Park avenue, and M. Goetfilinger of Evergreen and M. Goetfilinger of Everg green and Myrtle avenues. On Thursday night the detective arrested her at 424 Central avenue, where the people knew her as a music teacher. Before going to that place she lived in Stockton street for a few days. At the police station she did not seem to comprehend her plight, for she chatted pleasantly with the police, and said she had no doubt that she would soon to at liberty. She uleaded not guilty when she was arraigned in court, and was committed to mil in default of 5500 ball for trial on Thursday. There were other complainants in court beside Bellmans, but only his deposition was taken.

In the prisoner's pen she said vesterday that she was an actross, and also that under the name of Carmen Emmett she had signed a contract with Maurice Grau to go upon the stage as a chorus singer.

Mang Topient Songs in Court.

Officers King and Schmidt of the Gerry Society were going through East Twenty-third street Thursday night when the sound of sobs attracted their attention. Crouching under the cornice of a big building, so as to be prolected from the rain, was a well-dressed little colored boy. He told the officers that he was cold and hungry and they took him to the society's room.

He gave his name as James II. Stevens, 12 years old, and said that he had beaten his way here from Baitimore, where he made a living singing in the saloons and on the street. At the Yorkville Court vesterday morning Juslie Taintor committed the boy to the care of the society pending the arrival of a roply from Baltimore to a telegram sent to the Chief of Police by Officer King.

The boy sang several topical songs for the court attaches.

Miole the Trousers and then Resigned. Jacob Fisher, 22 years old, of 609 East Ninth street, a truck driver, was accused yesterday in the Jefferson Market Court by Thomas M. Walker of 82 Wooster street of stealing a care of boys' trousers, worth $114. The case was given to Fisher on Aug. 11, with orders to leave it at Fier 40. East liver. He returned later in the day, said that he had delivered the case, and then resigned his job. The goods never reached their destination, and inquiries revealed the fact that they had never been delivered at the pier. Detective Saver-scool arrested Fisher yesterday. He confessed, and was held in $1,000 bail for trial.

AN OCEAN STRAMBULP AFIRE. s in the Hold of the Connellan Pacific ouven, B. C., Aug. 26.—The Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of Japan arrived last evening with sixty-five saloon and 165 steerage passengers. She left Hong Kong on July 30. On the evening of Aug. 10, when 800 miles from Yokohama, fire broke out in the aft hold, and for some time the ship was in great danger, but the good seamanship of Capt. Lee averted a disaster, although he was compelled put back to Hakodate. The first intimation of the fire was the extinction of the electric lights, caused by the fusion of the wires in a secluded place. After more than two hours' search, smoke was seen issuing from the search, smoke was seen issuing from the bulkhead in front of the after hold, which contained augar and ten.

Without giving an alarm the Captain put about and steamed at full speed for Hakodate, the nearest port. Holes were cut in the bulkhead above where the fire was hottest, and water and steam were forced in. This was continued until morning, when the bulkhead became cooler, showing that the progress of the fire had been checked.

Upon opening the hold at Hokadate about ten fons of burnt sugar and tea were found around the place where the electric light wires were fused.

Herman Resenberg Accuses of Jilling Miss Rebreen Hehntoffeky.

Miss Rebecca Schutoffsky, a young and pretty brunette whose father is in business in Norfolk street, New York, was to have been married three weeks ago to Herman Rosenberg of 74 Seigel street, Williamsburgh. The couple had been engaged for several months and among the celebrations given by the parents of the young woman in honor of her prospective marriage was an engagement party. At this party Rosenberg signed the marriage contract, and preparations for the wedding ceremony were then begun in earnwedding ceremony were then begun in earnest. A few days before the time set for the wedding, Rosenberg, it is said, obtained $30 from his affianced with which to purchase a wedding case. She did not see him again and neither did Rosenberg show himself at his home. The night set for the wedding came, but Rosenberg, it is alleged, did not at past, and the marriage was postponed indefinitely. Miss Schutoffsky heard that on the night that she was to have been married to Rosenberg, the latter married another woman. Yesterday Miss Schutoffsky went to the Lee Avonue Police Court to cause Rosenberg's arrest, She was accompanied by her brother and uncle. As Justice Goetting had left the court, Miss Schutoffsky was told to go to court again to-day.

SUNK BY THE SWASH OF BIG BOATS. The Crew of the Little Tur Quickstep Jump

The swash of the Sound steamboats Massachusetts and City of Hartford sent the little tug Quickstep of the White Star Towing Com-pany to the bottom of the East River, off Houston street, yesterday morning. The Quickstep had towed a pile driver to Hamilton Ferry. On her way back she passed between the two Sound loats. The high waves that usually accompany flood tide were made tailer by a strong wind. These conditions, combined with the conflicting swash of two big boats, created a sea in the neighborhood of done for stormy days outside the Hook. The Quick-step pitched and rolled, shipping barrels of water. Her fires were put out and she became unmanageable. She lurched and went down. Cant. Reported Discovery of Copper In New

NEW BRUNSWICE, Aug. 26.-It is reported here that a rich vein of copper has been found on the farm at Chimney Book, near Bound Brook. A corps of men has been at work for some time making excavations at the place where the vein is, and the nature of the work has been carefully kept secret. It has long been known that copper existed in Middlesex county, but it has never been found in suffi-cient quantifies to pay the expense of mining. It is said that a company hus been already formed to work the new find.
